Design: Ivan Woods

Toro collection is defined by a strong, clean profile that emulates the poised stance of a fighting bull. Toro's taut silhouette with sharp angular lines is echoed throughout the range giving the Toro collection its distinct personality.

The Toro collection offers countless elegant and restrained seating and table elements from low, medium and high in chair sizing, round and square shaped tables and stools as well as the Badjo lounge chairs, all which can be integrated seamlessly throughout any scenario.

Toro represents a rich, organic aesthetic with ageless appeal suitable for commercial, hospitality and residential environments. Toro's sophisticated minimalistic design ensures that the collection is continually featured in exclusive venues and organisations including cafes, reception areas and break out spaces.

The Toro Badjo continues the wide angled stance synonymous with the Toro collection in the generous lounge chair variant. Badjo compliments the richness of solid timber with the luxury of leather wrapped around each feature panel. Seat and back cushions have the option of being upholstered from the select fabric range creating a unique contrast effect to the side and back leather panels.

Toro is made from natural wood; a low embodied energy and a renewable resource sourced from plantations. Using natural wood in long lived products instead of fossil fuel intensive building products provides the greatest reduction in fossil fuel use and carbon emissions.
